PROF. JAGGAR TO DELIVER LECTURE ON SAKURAJIMA FRIDAY EVENING

NAUTICAL TRAINING SHIP "NISHIKI MARU," PLACED AT PR. F. JAGGAR'S SERVICE BY JAPAN.

This ship, other ships of the navy, and men detailed from the army, did very efficient work in assisting refugees after the eruption of Sakurajima. All the details of this work, together with splendid scenes of the eruption, will be shown in moving pictures, and by means of colored lantern slides, at the popular lecture by Professor T. A. Jaggar at the Opera House on Friday evening. Tickets are on sale at the Promotion Committee room, Young hotel. The pictures and slides are new, and have never been shown before.

EVERYBODY, THAT IS NEARLY, WILL BE AT A 'NIGHT IN ROOFLAND' TONIGHT

Your friends will all be there. Where? At the roof garden of the Young tonight, either to take part in, or view the entertainment, "A Night in Roofland."

The ladies of the Outdoor Circle have worked hard for the success of the affair and it seemed last night after the final rehearsal that their greatest hopes would be realized. Not only did the participants in the vaudeville performance render their several parts well, but word from many who have been selling tickets was to the effect that nearly a thousand dollars' worth of seats have been sold. This speaks rather well for an amateur performance.

It was first planned that ladies wearing hats would be asked to remove them at the opening of the program, but it has since been decided that the ladies will be asked to attend the entertainment bare-headed. The fact that the seats are not raised has been the cause of this decision.

Reports from the roof garden last night were to the effect that one of the best numbers on the program is "Sympathy," by Bessie Abbott Howland and James Dougherty, assisted by the members of the Peanut Ballet of the "Mayor of Tokyo." Mrs. Howland is a singer of metropolitan fame and, as Honolulu knows, Mr. Dougherty is a talented musician.

Sandwiches and salad, for a light supper, after the entertainment must be ordered this afternoon at the Young Cafe, beverages as usual may be had at the roof garden.

IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS "CASCARETS"

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver, matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children—advertisement.

U., who for the past several months has been visiting in England and the United States, is expected to be a passenger in the Makura tomorrow, enroute to her home in Sydney. In anticipation of her arrival, the members of the local branch of the union are making arrangements of your way—Pearson's Weekly.

A Tent-Pitching Machine

The great canvas tents so familiar to the circus-going population are enormously heavy, weighing often five tons or more, and handling them quickly is a task that formerly taxed 50 men for two hours, and then was accomplished only indifferently well. By a new device a big wagon is equipped with a long roller, operated by a gasoline engine, which winds up the big canvas as quickly and easily as a clothes wringer handles a sheet. Indeed the resemblance is something more than fanciful, for this appliance wrings the canvas perfectly dry, even on a rainy night, so that the tent may be transported without fear of rotting or mildew. Reversing the process, and pulling the big canvas off the rollers by horses, the entire tent may be raised quickly, the roller on the wagon being utilized to pull up the ropes which raise the poles, saving an immense amount of hard work and hours of time. The gasoline engine is used only for operating the roller, the wagon being hauled by eight horses. —Popular Mechanics Magazine.

HAROLD BAUER IS DEEPLY INDEBTED TO PADEREWSKI

Of the few pianists to whom the term "great" might be applied, none more fully deserves the title than Harold Bauer. A pupil of Paderewski, Bauer owes to that master a debt of gratitude for bringing to its highest development the musical genius he early displayed. At the same time, it may be said that Bauer is in a large measure self-taught. Even as a boy he showed rare musical instinct, and his rapid advance under distinguished European masters showed that he was of no mediocre caliber.

Six times previous to his present tour, which is under the direction of Leodon (Charlton), Bauer has visited the United States, and each appearance has strengthened his hold on American favor. In Europe his reputation was made long before he undertook to win recognition in this country. He has given concerts in so many continental cities an admirer laughingly has suggested that the pianist's fame rests as much upon his record as a traveler as his skill as a musician. From Europe to South America he has journeyed, returning to England, Norway and Sweden and his home in Paris, only to hasten back to Spain, where he has filled engagements at many fashionable watering-places. Meanwhile he has been preparing himself for his American tour, arranging his programs and extending his repertoire. Bauer is indefatigable. In his playing the most noticeable characteristics are his exquisitely controlled temperament and his freedom from anything resembling display.

Harold Bauer declared recently that the most curious audience he ever played before was in Phoenix, Arizona. "I had been visiting the Indian school," said he, "and the director suggested my giving a concert. At first I took it for granted that he meant a concert in the town, but when night arrived I found myself in the presence of a thousand red Indians! When I got over my astonishment I played the program through as pre-arranged, and I have never had a more appreciative audience. It was quiet, attentive and absorbed, and I felt at once that strange, intuitive bond of sympathy which declares itself on rare occasions between player and listeners."

Bauer will be heard at the Royal Hawaiian Opera House Saturday evening, May 9.

YE LIBERTY THEATER.

Perhaps there is no show more pleasing to a modern audience than high-class vaudeville, especially when staged in a refined and instructive manner. Such was the new program presented at Ye Liberty on Saturday evening by Baby Alma and company, which will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night for the last time. "There is no feature act; they are all features." Ernest Brinkman's rendering of the "Fireman" song was excellent. The Steele sisters have good voices and had to respond to numerous recalls. Bobby Blue is funny on the stage. Pharo again mystified with his wonderful illusions. Baby Alma captivated the house with her sweet voice. For an encore she did an Irish jig, ending up with a cakewalk. This little tot has a style of her own and proves she is a born performer.

WITHIN THE LAW.

Last night another capacity house was in evidence at the Bijou theater to see the much-talked-of play "Within the Law." This play is so well known at present and has made such a notable hit locally that it is not necessary to write about it in detail if you fail to see "Within the Law," you will miss the greatest treat theatrically in the history of Honolulu. Commencing with next Thursday evening George Webb and "The Players" will be seen in one of New York's greatest successful comedies, "The Fortune Hunter," which had a run of two seasons at the Gaiety theater in New York and was used by John Barrymore in a very successful tour. This is the first time this comedy will be seen on a local stage. Mr. Webb will be seen as Hat Duncan, the fortune hunter, a part which he has met with success. Miss Oakley will be seen in a very striking part. The Fortune Hunter will most likely receive the same amount of patronage as the present play, "Within the Law." Much interest is being taken by the audience in selecting plays to follow "The Fortune Hunter." The ballot with a list of 18 of the very best plays is distributed among the audience for them to vote their choice of play. Last night "The Common Law" led by 342 votes; however, tonight's audience may change the play.
